DANVILLE, KY.
FRIDAY—MAY 26, 1854.

We are indebted to our Senator in Congress, Hon. J. B. THOMAS, for several valuable Public Documents, among them the Census report of 1850.

Pic-Nic.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that there is a great train in store for our young friends, in the shape of a picnic, to be held a few miles from town, on Saturday, June 3d. The members of the Danville Saxhorn Band, have invited several other fine bands, to be present with them, and a rich musical treat is anticipated. Everybody is invited to attend, and as all who can make it convenient to do so will of course furnish their share of eatables. There will certainly be nothing lacking in that department. The picnic is to be held in the woods of Mr. Peter Tribble, on the Stanford pike.

PROCESSION OF THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—BASKET MEETING—LADIES' FAIR, &c.—We understand that the members of Danville Division, No. 43, S. T., intend to celebrate the coming 4th of July, by a public procession and basket meeting, in which the Sons of neighboring Divisions are invited to join. The meeting will be held in the woods of Joux Thomas, Esq., near town, where several addresses appropriate to the occasion will be delivered. The members of the Danville Saxhorn Band will add to the enjoyment and life of the occasion, by discoursing some of the fine music which they are so competent to furnish.

We learn that the Ladies of the Methodist Church in this place, will hold a Fair on the same day. If they equal their former efforts in that line, they will do all that could be desired, for the appearance of their estates at previous Fairs held by them, would be hard to excel.

OLD FELLOWS PROCESSION.—The members of Montgomery Lodge, No. 18, I. O. O. F., Harrodsburg, design having a procession on the 10th day of June, on which occasion they hope to be joined by large delegations from all the neighboring Lodges. An address will be delivered by Rev. Thos. J. Fisher, and a dinner served up at Morgan's Hotel. We understand that the music will be furnished by the Danville Saxhorn Band.

MORE LONG WOOL.—J. T. BOYLE, Esq., has loaned us several specimens of very long and fine wool which he pulled from some sheep belonging to S. H. GREGG, Esq., of Lincoln, President of the Crab Orchard School, Agricultural and Mechanical Association. One of the specimens measures about 13 inches in length and another 11. Mr. Gregg has a number of very fine imported Sheep, of the Leicester, Cotswold, Southdown, and French Merino breeds, all celebrated for their size, and for the quality and quantity of their wool. It is a noticeable fact that the farmers of Kentucky are exhibiting such commendable enterprise in the improvement of their stock of every kind.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS.—The Springs were opened for the reception of visitors on the 15th inst. We understand that a few days ago there were as many as 70 persons there, which we consider quite a large number for so early in the season. Mr. HARRIS is accommodating host, and his visitors may rely upon being pleasantly situated while there.

The first ball of the season will be given at the Springs on the evening of the 1st of June, the day appointed for the Odd Fellows' procession in Crab Orchard.

Distressing Accident.—We are pained to learn that the Rev. J. A. PERRY, formerly of this place, lost three children, a few days since by the explosion of a Campbelle lamp. We have been unable to learn any of the particulars of this sad and distressing accident. Sincerely do we sympathize with our friend Perry in his many bereavements and misfortunes since he left this place.

A WOMAN SHOT.—On Sunday last, in the "Kauk" region of this county, Mrs. CLEMMONS was shot by a man named John Lamb, the ball taking effect in the hip, and making a serious though not dangerous wound. Lamb gave himself up on Tuesday, and was tried before an examining court, which held him to bail in the sum of $300 to answer at the next term of our Circuit Court—in default of which he was committed to jail.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A new Post Office has been established at Cogar's Landing, Jessamine county, Ky., and Capt. Thos. T. Cogar has been appointed the Post Master.

COVINGTON AND LEXINGTON RAILROAD.—The cars on this road are now running through from Covington to Cincinnati, a distance of sixty-four miles. The first trip was made during the last week. The track is represented as exceedingly smooth for a new road, and an average speed of twenty miles to the hour is made. A line of Omnibuses connects with the train at Cincinnati, and run to Paris, where passengers take the cars of the Louisville and go to Lexington. By this arrangement, persons leaving Covington at 7 A. M., will be in Lexington same day at 1 o'clock. It is expected that the entire road to Lexington will be completed by the first of September next.

Matt. F. Ward, the murderer of Prof. Butler, returned to Louisville on Monday last, and we learn from the Courier and Democrat that his arrival in the city created considerable feeling and excitement.

WHEELING BRIDGE BLOWN DOWN.—The celebrated Wheeling suspension bridge, which was constructed at a cost of about $160,000, was blown down by a tornado on Wednesday last week. This bridge was the greatest structure of the kind in the world, and obtained a widespread notoriety on account of the efforts made to have it removed on the plea that it interfered with navigation. The Wheeling Times says during the storm which destroyed it, the bridge swung to and fro for about ten minutes, when the fastenings gave way and the whole superstructure was plunged into the river below—a total wreck. No one was on it at the time, as the bridge tender saw the danger, and prevented persons from going upon it. The toll-house was torn in pieces, and some small buildings near it injured. The course which will be pursued in regard to the bridge, whether it will be rebuilt or not, has not been announced.

HORACE GREELEY.—This man is either a dupe or a hypocrite on the subject of slavery, or he allows his feelings in regard to that institution, to carry him to such lengths that he is ready to turn traitor to his country, plunge the North and South into a civil war, or in short do anything, no matter how furious, how treacherous or how dangerous, in order to prove the sincerity of his opposition to slavery. In a late number of his paper, the New York Tribune, in the course of an article, intended perhaps to excite the North and frighten the South, in view of the probable passage of the Nebraska Bill, he uses the following language:

"Better that confusion should ensue—better that discord should reign in the National Councils—better that Congress should break up in civil disorder—nay, better that the Capital itself should blaze by the torch of the incendiary, or fall and bury all its inmates beneath its crumbling ruins—than that this perfidious and wrong should be finally accomplished."

Now, isn't that beautiful language to come from a man professing to be a patriot—a man of Greeley's talents—wielding as he does a powerful influence over a great body of Northern people? We have opposed the Nebraska bill from the first, but our opposition has been caused by our fears for the peace and safety of the Union, and a belief, which has never abated in firmness, that the whole affair would result in injury to the South, instead of advantage, as many Northern men seem to anticipate. Greeley's opposition, however, springs from very different causes, and he carries it to extremes, which none except those who are ripe for treason, bloodshed, and anarchy, can approve. In the article from which the above paragraph is taken, he proclaims that "the time of argument and appeal is past," and that "action alone remains." He remarks further, that:

"If a positive majority are blindly bent on this fatal and insensate act, there remains but one expedient, and that is to resort to the extreme rights of the minority of the House. We have no doubt and no hesitation in expressing our fixed judgment that this is the proper occasion for the exercise of those rights. The time of argument and appeal is past. Let it be shown that there is a North that refuses to be trampled upon."

The question now arises, what does all this talk about "action" and "extreme rights" mean? Does it mean, that if the Nebraska bill passes, a resort to the bloodshed, the knife and fire-arm, would be justifiable, at the same time pointing to the Capitol as a place on which to use the incendiary's torch? As a contemporary says, it is humiliating to think that there is one American who desires to see his country's flag wave over a heaving sea of fraternal blood. But it seems to be so, and will be, so long as every section has its fanatics, who are ready, it would appear, to betray their country, rather than endure the defeat of their favorite notions.—Greeley belongs to this class, and such language as he has recently put forth, is sufficient, we think to heap upon him the just indignation and contempt of every patriot, no matter what part of the country he may call his home, nor whatever may be his feelings on the Nebraska bill, slavery, or any other subject.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (Old School), commenced its annual session in Buffalo, on Thursday last, 15th inst. The Commercial Advertiser, of that city, says that "there were present two hundred and thirty-two members, and a large congregation of citizens and visitors, forming the most numerous assembly ever known at the organization. After singing and prayer, by the Rev. Dr. Spring, of New York, the Moderator, the Rev. J. Young, D. D., of Kentucky, preached the opening sermon. His text was from the 22d chapter of Luke, 26th verse, and his subject, 'The evils of anarchy among Church Officers.' The discourse was most able and eloquent, and was delivered in a style which added to the attraction of the subject."

On the third day of the Assembly, Dr. Alexander T. McGill was appointed to the professorship of Pastoral Theology at Princeton Seminary.

A report from the Danville Sanitary states that the funds raised this year amount to $76,000.

The Union Theological Seminary report invested funds to the amount of $64,000. The report of the Board of Education shows the receipts of the year to be $74,000.

SOUTHERN METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.—On the 10th inst., this body, now in session at Columbus, Ga., decided unanimously to establish a Book Concern and Publishing House, at some suitable point to be hereafter selected. Louisville, we suppose, will be a prominent competitor for the location.

A memorial from Kentucky was presented, asking to abolish the office of Presiding Elder, to allow lay representation in, and a bishop for, each Conference. Considerable discussion arose as to the proper committee to which it should be referred, but it was finally referred to the Committee on Revisals.

A memorial was also presented, asking to change the rule allowing a minister to be stationed only two years in a place, which was referred to the same committee.

The Conference has adopted a resolution providing for the election of three additional bishops.

We are again under obligations to the Rev. Daniel Stevenson for the use of his papers, containing the full official correspondence.

RESIGNATION OF MR. EVERETT.—The Hon. Edward Everett, in consequence of ill-health, has resigned his seat in the U. S. Senate—his resignation taking effect in June. We regret to see the old member of the Senate, who has so long upheld to the extent of their power the dignity, influence, and prudent, conservative action of that body, withdrawing from it, at this time, when so few of them are left in it. Rufus Choate, will we hope be the successor of Mr. E. We have seen his name mentioned in that connection.

MR. FILLMORE AND "HENRY LONG."—We learn from the Atlanta Intelligencer, that during the recent visit of Mr. Fillmore to that place, among the servants who waited upon him at the Atlanta Hotel, was the famous Henry Long, who it will be remembered, was the first fugitive slave delivered up under the act of 1850, at whose trial in New York, there was raised so great an excitement. Henry was considerably elated at the idea of serving his Excellency.

We copy the following from the Frankfort Commonwealth, of Wednesday:

"Mrs. McElroy was alive on Monday evening, and some hopes are entertained of her recovery. None of her limbs are quite so nearly covered as was at first reported, and if she recovers at all it is not supposed that she will lose any of her members except one or two of her toes. But the laceration and butchery of her person is most horrible. The physicians counted over thirty marks of distinct blisters with the arsenic with the edge, some with the pull; and it seems nothing less than a miracle that the child failed to kill her outright. The child that was injured was a little boy, not a little girl, as stated in our last."

CONVULSIONS.—The Nebraska Bill passed the House on Monday last. The following are the Yeas and Nays on its passage. It will be seen that all the members from Kentucky who were present, voted for the bill. Mr. Ewing was absent:

Yeas—Messrs. J. C. Allen, Willis Allen, Ash, Bailey, of Ga., Bailey, of Va., Backsdale, Burry, Bell, Boock, Boyce, Breckinridge, Briggs, Brooks, Carruthers, Christian, Christian, Church, Clark, Clark, Clendenen, Clifton, Coz, Craig, Cummings, Cutting, Davis, of Ind., Dawson, Denney, Dowdell, Dunbar, Dunham, Eddy, Edmundson, Elliott, of Ky., English, Faulkner, Florence, Goode, Greene, Greenwood, Gray, Haney, Hays, of Ala., Hendricks, Henri, Hubbard, Hill, Hyllyer, Houston, Ingersoll, Jones, of Tenn., Jones, of Pa., Jones, of La., Keer, Kindell, Kirk, Lamb, Lane, Latham, Lecher, Lilly, Lingly, of Md., Lough, McDougal, McVair, Maxwell, May, Miller, of Mo., Packer, Perkins, Phelps, Phillips, Powell, Preston, Reade, Reese, Richardson, Riddell, Robbins, Howe, Ruffin, Seward, Shaw, Shaw, Shreve, Simpson, Smith, of Tenn., Sinton, of Ky., Straub, Stewart, of Mich., Taylor, of N. Y., Tweed, Vail, Vansant, Walbridge, Walker, Walsh, Warren, Westbrook, Witte, Wright, of Miss., Wright, of Pa., and Gen. Zollicoffer—103.

Nays—Messrs. Ball, Banks, Belcher, Bennett, Benson, Benton, Brigg, Campbell, Carpenter, Chandler, Crocker, Collins, Curtis, Davis, of R. I., Dean, Dewitt, Dicks, Dickinson, Drinn, Egan, Elington, Edmund, Elmore, of Mich., Taylor, Eweridge, Everhart, Farly, Fenton, Flagg, Fulton, Gamble, Geddings, Goodrich, Gamble, Grow, Harlan, of Ohio, Harlan, of Ind., Harrison, Hastings, Haven, Heister, How, Hughes, Hunt, Hunt, Hunt, Hunt, Hunt, Knox, Knolly, of Ohio, Lyon, McCullough, Mace, Matterson, Mayall, Meacham, Middleworth, Milson, Morgan, Morrison, Nichols, Noble, Norton, Oliver, of New York, Parker, Peck, Perkins, Remondino, Perkins, Pratt, Pringle, Perryfor, Ritchie, Ritchey, Rogers, Russell, Sabin, Sage, Sapp, Seimons, Simons, Skelton, Smith, of N. Y., Stevens, Stewart, of Ohio, Taylor, of O., Taylor, of Tenn., Thurston, Tracy, of Ky., Tupper, Waller, Washburn, Sen., Washburn, Jr., Wentworth, of Illinois, Wentworth, of Mass., Wheeler, and Yates—99.

THE CORRESPONDENT OF THE NEW ORLEANS PIONEEER, writing from Havana, by the Crescent City, states that a number of officers in the army of Cuba were sent to the United States by the steamship Isabel, on her last trip, with instructions from the Captain General to keep a strict watch upon the filibuster movements in the United States, in consequence of the late seizure of the Black Warrior, and the efforts making on the part of prominent individuals at Washington, to bring about a suspension of the existing neutrality laws.

They are also instructed to observe minutely the progress of events at Washington, in connection with the subject, and report the same without delay. The writer, likewise, asserts positively, that in the event of war between the United States and Spain, the Captain General has a decree, ready to be issued at any moment, abolishing slavery and arming the slaves. Many Europeans, with their families, were leaving Havana, in anticipation of the trouble ahead.

THE LOSS OF LIFE OCCASIONED BY THE SINKING OF THE PIKE was much larger than at first supposed. The St. Louis Republican says the impression of its informant is that fifteen lives were lost, while others think the number is much greater. Not knowing the number of female passengers on board—the writer—I can only give you a few prominent items in regard to the loss of life.

A very aged gentleman and his wife, of Missouri, were going on a visit to their daughter, residing in the neighborhood of Madison, some fifteen miles back—they were drowned. When the boat struck, she carried so suddenly that the water filled the berths before the occupants could get out. Two other persons jumped overboard in front of the wheel house, and were lost. Three others sprang out at the stern of the vessel, and sank to rise no more.

SMITH O'BRIEN.—The Savannah Courier is informed by Mr. McGehee, that, instead of being unconditionally set at liberty, a pardon is offered to O'Brien if he will apply for it, and, if, off doing so, he will sign a paper recognizing the justice of his sentence. Neither of which he would ever consent to do.

"LUSTY AS HIM, SON."—How the country editors do take on when a city brother gets into a remarkably good streak of luck. See what an excitement our new coat is creating away down in the Green River country.

THE EDITOR OF THE DANVILLE TRIBUNE is in about the third stage of delirium, we notice. After acknowledging the receipt of a "fine Broadcloth coat," as a present, he says:

"P. S.—N. B.—Those common editors whom we slightly recognized when our elbows were out, are informed that we shall have to cut their names from the list of donors. No change however, will be made in our domestic regulations—our children will be permitted to play with those of our neighbors, just as usual."

Wonder, now, if there'd be any chance to get the editor's old coat—probably we might, by the use of a ladder, stand about head-to-head with him, if he'd let us have it.

The above is from the Bowling Green Standard. The editor is informed that we will receive for a limited time, proposals for the purchase of the garment he seems so desirous to have. It might be used to some advantage either as carpet rags or soap grease.

THE ARSENALS OF ENGLAND have been closed for a long time, even to the members of Parliament, while experiments have been making in new and terrible machines for carrying on war. One of these is called the Wagner Floating Gun, which glides along on the water in a straight line till it strikes the vessel at which it is directed, when it thrusts into its sides its iron head, containing two pounds of fulminating powder of mercury, which by exploding blows a hole in the vessel ten or twelve feet in length, which it is impossible to close, as the round holes made by cannon balls.

CITY FACTS.—There are two hundred and eight hotels in our city, says the Cincinnati Daily Unionist, over six hundred groceries, beer shops and coffee saloons; in all of which, or nearly all, spirituous liquors are sold, mostly of the cheapest and vilest description, capable of killing rats or turkey buzzards at 30 paces. A fair estimate strikes us that there are over 4,000 vagabonds, without fixed homes or occupations, in our city. In estimating the population at 150,000 souls, we may safely say, that 50,000 laborers, men, women and children, support, in a great measure, the other 100,000. The entire length of all the streets, in a direct line, would extend over one hundred miles; the milk used in one day in the city, would swim a ferry boat; while the bread daily consumed would form a pyramid as high as the tallest house in Cincinnati.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We understand that Gen. Leslie Combs has been elected President of the Lexington and Danville Railroad. This important feature is an important link in the connection between the present railroads concentrating at Lexington, and those made and contemplated in Tennessee, which will extend to the great Southern Pacific Railroad, as located by the recent Commercial Convention at Charleston.

We congratulate the company upon securing the services of so capable and energetic a president.

INTERPRETATION BY THE SOUTH.—A New Orleans paper makes the following statement:

During the last year there was expended something near $300,000,000 for intoxicating drinks in this State; $200,000,000 of this was expended in New Orleans alone. There were about 16,000 arrests, chiefly for drunkenness and for drunkenness; in the city and suburbs about 400 deaths by delirium tremens; about 75 murders, besides a host of other crimes.—Over 1,000 have been reduced to vagrancy and pauperism, the measure, since the State has been crippled; thousands have been kept out of employment; society at large has been seriously, deeply damaged in all its relations; the health and energies of some of our best citizens have been destroyed and ruined in life.

LETTER FROM LORENA.—The man of color, (Rev. J. McKay), who went out to Liberia as Agent for the Indiana State Board of Colonization, writes to his family, in a letter dated December 26:

"We cast anchor at Monrovia on the 19th of December, making the passage in thirty-five and a half days."

"This is a fine country, and everything is here but heart can wish, or appetite crave. I have had very good health since I left home, except two days sea sickness. Yesterday was Christmas day, and it was strange to see the trees green and in full bloom; the country is laden with oranges, pineapples, pine apples, coconuts, and I see every vegetable and fruit common in the United States. I came out in the Banshee, but as she goes to South America, I must wait for the Monrovia; she will be here in about twenty days, which will make it the last of January or the beginning of February, before I can start home. I start up to Cape Mount to-day, to see that part of the country."

A second letter, written on the 6th of January, he says, "I have been by the way of England, as one of the steamers is about to start. In as good health, and have been, ever since I came to this place, and am well pleased with the country."

AN ELOPEMENT.—A Mrs. Davidson, residing a few miles from Lawrenceburg, Ky., left her home last Saturday night, in company with a married man—who was also her brother-in-law. The guilty pair did not only elope, but eloped to the marriage altar, but also deserted two helpless children, one of them not a year old. Mr. D. was awakened about twelve o'clock on the night in question, by the coughing of his youngest child, and then discovered that his wife had disappeared. The next day still warm, but the bird had taken flight. Upon going to the door, he observed his wife and her paramour in a state of dress, and at first determined to shoot them; but on reflection, concluded to let them escape unharm. The most aggravated feature of the case, however, and that which affected the forsaken husband more than the loss of his wife and child, was, that the man (whose name was not given) had borrowed money of him on Saturday morning, which was doubtless used in carrying off his wife! The runaway also took with them a fine horse, valued at $150, and a watch, and other articles of value.—Law. Cor.

THE LARGEST SHEEP IN THE WORLD.—Mr. Francis J. Gray, of this country, has presented us with some specimens of wool. Mr. Gray has been engaged in raising sheep about five years, and we doubt not, is among the most successful in Kentucky; and has never failed to take the premium wherever shown. Some of the specimens shown us of his wool are seventeen inches in length, and of fine quality, measuring five inches. His imported buck, two years old, sheared 24 lbs. 3 oz. wool; and he has a ewe that sheared 15 lbs. He has a Kentucky raised buck that weighs about 300, and measures around the chest 5 feet 2 inches. Fresh sheared. The last named buck took the first premium at the Paris Fair last fall.—Cynthiana News.

LAMBDA,

This celebrated Race Horse and Station will make the present season, (which has now commenced, and will end the 4th of July) at our stables, in Danville, Boyle County, Ky.

Believing we have secured the services of a very superior stallion, we invite breeders and admirers of fine horses to call and examine for themselves. We will barely remark that Lambda is a blood bay without a white mark, stands sixteen hands high, of great beauty, fine action, and as purely bred as any horse in England. The distinguished filly, Sunbe, that has never lost a heat, having run at Nashville, Tenn., Augusta, Ga., and Charleston, S. C., was out of the dam Lambda. She was exhibited at the great Agricultural State Fair in Georgia, and was awarded a silver cup, as an evidence of her superiority. Particulars in bills.
